HARPER WEDDINGS

PROUDLY IN PARTNERSHIP

with Champagne Laurent-Perrier

Established in 1812, the house remains family-owned to this day, and Laurent-Perrier's Cellar Master, Michel Fauconnet, has been there for roughly 50 years. Bernard de Nonancourt took over the house at a mere 28 years old, having returned from fighting in the Second World War. The vision he set out for the house during his tenure remains his legacy. Today, it is his daughters Alexandra and Stephanie that oversee operations, following Bernard's death in 2010.

An obsession for quality and purity in the wines creates a style that is clean, easy-to-drink, with a refreshing elegance in the mouth. This is largely thanks to high quality Chardonnay grapes forming the backbone of the house's style, along with extended ageing of the bottles.

We encourage you to explore the breadth of their offering within our wine list.
